PROPHETS OF OLD

First to See Coming Of Prince of Peace

BETHLEHEM, Dec. 25—Beginning the Year of Our Lord 1. — For centuries prophets have forecast the birth of a Christ Child and historians have made many references to the coming of a Messiah.

These are some of the names which have been applied to Him. Immanuel, Wonderful Counselor, Mighty God, Everlasting Father, Prince of Peace, The Lord of the Highest and Jesus.

Since the birth here today of the Wonderful child and the excitment and rejoicing that have followed local scribes have been searching history and the Bible and point to the predictions of Isaiah, Jeremiah, Micha and others.

The following quotations are given as vital to the Messiah's coming:

The Lord spoke again to Ahaz saying, Ask thee a sign of the Lord thy God . . . But Ahaz said I will not ask, neither will I tempt the Lord. And he said, Hear ye now, O House of David . . . Behold a virgin shall conceive and bear a son, and shall call his name Immanuel. — Isaiah 7:14.

The people that walked in darkness have seen a great light; they that dwell in the land of the shadow of death, upon them hath the light shined . . . For unto us a child is born, unto us a child is given, and the government shall be upon his shoulders, and his name shall be called WONDERFUL COUNSELOR THE MIGHTY GOD, THE EVERLASTING FATHER, THE PRINCE OF PEACE, of the increase of his government and peace there shall be no end, upon the throne of David, and upon his kingdom, to order it, and to establish it with judgement and justice henceforth even forever.

The zeal of the Lord of hosts will perform this. — Isaiah 9:2-7.

I will gather the remnants of my flock out of all countries whither I have driven them, and will bring them again to their folds . . . and I will set up shepherds over them which shall feed them, and they shall fear no more, nor be dismayed, neither shall they be lacking, saith the Lord, that I will raise, and the king shall reign and prosper, and shall execute judgement and justice in the earth . . . And this is his name whereby he shall be called, THE LORD, Our RIGHTEOUSNESS. — Jeremiah 23:3-6.

Now gather thyself in troops, O daughter of troops; he hath laid seige against us; They say smite the judge of Israel with a rod upon the cheek. But thou, Bethlehem. Ephararath, though thou be little among the thousands of Judahs, yet out of thee shall come forth unto me one that is to be ruler of Israel; whose goings forth have been from old, from everlasting . . And he shall stand, and feed in the strength of the Lord, in the majesty of the name of the Lord his God; and they shall abide; for now shall he be great unto the ends of the earth. — Micah 5:14.

In the sixth month the Angel Gabriel was sent from God unto a city of Galilee, named Nazareth, to a virgin spoused to a man whose name was Joseph, of the house of David and the virgin's name was Mary. And the angel came upon her, and said. Hail thou are highly favored, the Lord is with thee: blessed are thou among women. And when she saw him she was troubled at his saying, and cast in her mind what manner of salutation this should be, and the Angel said unto her: Fear not, Mary, for thou hast found favor with God.

Magi Followed Star To Find Son of Mary

BETHLEHEM, Dec. 25—Beginning the Year of Our Lord 1. — The mysticism and beauty of the Orient has mingled with the simplicity and reverence of a little town made holy by a divine occurance.

Three sages from the East, impressive in the richness of their many colored silks and gold insignia, walked the dusty streets of Bethlehem today and told of their journeys across desert and plain to lay rare gifts at the feet of the tiny babe.

They spoke briefly and eloquently of the prophecy. "There shall come a star out of Jacob and a spectre shall rise out of Israel," and they described the brilliance and comet-like action of this star which had arisen in the east, and which they had followed until it halted over the Judean city.

These three Magi who bear the names of Casper, Melchor and Balthazar, were familiar with the Hebrew prophecies which foretold the advent of the Messiah, and had long waited for the star, they said. To prepare for the promised King of Israel, they sold their possessions and equipped a caravan.

Last night, surrounded by humble shepherds and barnyard animals, they fell to their knees and worshipped the young child with great joy, and presented him with frankincense, myrrh and gold.

When they were asked if the commonplace surrounding seemed out of keeping with Christ's significance, Melchor, the wise man, answered:

"The King we seek is not to be found in the palace, nor among the rich and powerful. If the light of the world and the glory of Israel had been appointed to come with earthly splendor, it must have happened long ago. For no son of Abraham will ever again rival the power which Joseph had in the palaces of Egypt or the magnificance of Solomon throned between the lions of Jerusalem. But the light for which the world is waiting is a new light, the glory that shall rise out of patient and triumphant suffering. And the kingdom which is to be established forever in a new kingdom, the royalty of unconquerable love."

An intimation of the uncertain future was voiced when he added: "I do not know how the turbulent kings and people of the earth shall be brought to acknowledge the Messiah and pay homage to Him. But this I know. Those who seek Him will do well to look among the poor and lowly, the sorrowful and the oppressed."

Dogs and Sheep Overcome by Celestial Radiance

BETHLEHEM, Dec. 25—Beginning the Year of Our Lord 1. — The shepherd's dogs and sheep were overcome also by the strange light from heaven last night, the men reported.

Astrologers See Tragedy, Sorrow For Holy Babe

JERUSALEM, Dec. 25—Beginning the Year of Our Lord 1. — Great tragedy will mark the future of the child born in Bethlehem, say the country's foremost astrologers. The stars, they say, reveal:

He will be in great danger while he is still an infant, and because of an attempt upon His life, many children will be killed.

He will live to be hailed in Jerusalem, but will later be rejected and betrayed by one close to Him.

Crucifixion will be the manner of His death, and He will undergo unspeakable suffering.

There are other venerable pathetic words which foretell the sufferings of the promised Messiah.

These reveal that He will be "despised and rejected of men, a man of sorrows and acquainted grief."

Their search of the records it is believed, will continue for many weeks and will entail many secret conferences with not only members of their craft, but with the priesthood in the temple itself. Whether their finds will be made public in detail is not known.

The astrologers added that this preliminary report of their findings as revealed by their efforts probably would be considered altered by further study and indeed, might be radically altered by results of research and study.

'Mary Smiled at Me!' Simply Clad Boy Says

NAZARETH, Dec. 25—Beginning the Year of Our Lord 1. — A young boy — one of the band of shepherds which was visited on the hill near here last night by a heavenly host of angels who told them of the birth of the baby prophet, was a shy narrator of events transpiring at the stables when the presence of the child became known.

Rough clad, and plainly awed by his part in the divine drama, he gave the only clear impression gained of Mary, the mother of the Holy Child. The other shepherds were too inspired, and the wise men from the east too preoccupied with the identity of the infant to notice details which the eye of a child seized upon.

"Everything seems so quiet in the stable," he replied to questions. "I noticed that even the pigeons didn't coo like they usually do."

"Did Mary or Joseph say anything to anyone?" he was asked.

The lad flushed then confessed: "Joseph asked to me help him fix the hay so it would be more comfortable, and then Mary smiled at me after she had been looking at the baby, and so I asked her if they didn't have better places in the inn. She answered low-like: "There wasn't any room for us."

"I felt sorry for her; and then she smiled again and just whispered: "But I like it here. The inn was so noisy, and the streets are full of loud people. The animals are peaceful. You mustn't feel sorry for us."

"I still felt strange. It is as though something too wonderful to talk about has happened to me, I can't explain it. But I feel so peaceful inside."

Messiah Comes Into World Torn By Internal Strife

BETHLEHEM, Dec. 25—Beginning the Year of Our Lord 1. — Christ was born last night. They say he is a King. Into a world torn with strife, into a dictator-ridden country that trembles at the clashing swords of Rome, has come the ray of light so long awaited by the troubled people.

It is a far cry from the golden pillars of Solomon's temple to the crude stalls of a cattle barn.

For hundreds of years the memories and tales of the glories of ancient Jerusalem have been treasured in the hearts of scattered race. For generations they have unrolled their papyrus scripts and reassured themselves that one day a Redeemer of Mankind would restore their kingdoms. With mighty armies He would vanquish a tyrant Caesar, and rebuild their shining city.

They thought of him in terms of shining raiment and a golden throne; they didn't expect swaddling clothes and manger hay.

They could see him proclaimed by heralds with silver trumpets; they didn't think his companions could be rough-haired oxen and sleepy-eyed goats.

They expected urns of smoldering incense, but not the aroma of a stable.

Multitudes would prostrate themselves on the ground in His presence, they believed; they didn't suppose that a harried innkeeper would suggest that the royal family sleep in the barn because all of his rooms were full of taxpayers.

Some say that this baby born last night to Mary and Joseph of Nazareth couldn't possibly be the Messiah foretold in Scriptures. But there are others who remember the words of the prophet Isaiah, of Jeremiah and of Micah and with unspeakable joy hail Him as the Saviour of Israel.

Mary and Joseph Both Descendants Of Royal Line

NAZARETH, Dec. 25—Beginning the Year of Our Lord 1. — Although Mary, mother of the Saviour, and her husband, Joseph, live among the humbler folk here, where he is a carpenter, they are of the royal family of Judah and the descendant of King David.

The Jews keep exact lists of their genealogies thus explaining the present situation.

For the old prophets said that the Christ child was to be born at Bethlehem whereas Mary lives in Nazareth 50 miles distant. But when the Emperor Augustus called for the regular 10-year census he ordered Herod to register the people according to the tribe to which they belong. Mary and Joseph belonging to the family of David were required to go to Bethlehem.

Inn Keeper's Faith In Miracle Strengthens

BETHLEHEM, Dec. 25—Beginning of Year of Our Lord 1. — Bewilderment marked the features today of the keeper of the little inn where Mary and Joseph sought shelter last night. But behind the bewilderment could be sensed a dawning belief.

"There was something different about her face," he said of Mary. "It was tired — but different. And when Joseph turned away leading the ass she was riding, something about him too, made me want to call them back.

"I went to the stable this morning," he mused. "Only it didn't seem like the same stable somehow."

Shopkeeper Has Doubts About Jesus

BETHLEHEM, Dec. 25—Beginning the Year of Our Lord 1. — "All the excitement has made more business for my shop but I do not believe he is the Christ."

That was the opinion of the proprietor of a small shop here who has not yet visited the now-famous birthplace of the infant-Jesus.

"I really believe this is just something arranged to make more entertainment for taxpayer week," he went on. "Why, the true Christ will be so mighty that there will not be a doubt by anyone when he comes. That light was just a falling meteor and those sleepy shepherds were startled by it. You know how a story can grow."

He said he had been too busy to go along with the crowds to the stable, and added that the innkeeper would probably have more business than ever.

"I have an extra room here at the back," he said thoughtful. "If I had only known — and he hurried to wait on a customer.

Lowly Shepherds with Flocks on Nearby Hills First to Note Miracle of Celestial Visitation

Long-Awaited Messiah Born in Lowly Manger

The Christmas issue today tells the story of Christ's birth as it might have been told if modern newspapers had been printed at that time. Today's current news appears on inside pages. The Bethlehem story was mainly written several years ago by a newsman and its use has become tradition with us. The dispatches are based on the story of the Christ child as it was originally written.

Eyes of All Judea Turn to Bethlehem As Word Spreads

Appearance of Star Convinces Inhabitants New Baby is Prince

BETHLEHEM, Dec. 25—Beginning the Year of Our Lord 1. — The eyes of all Judea are turned with awe today upon this little town as the word emanates from it that the long prophesied Messiah was born here last night.

Miraculous happenings and visitations of heavenly hosts which confronted them with radiance and divine song, lead inhabitants to believe that this is the prince of the throne of David, who Scriptures have said will reunite the scattered tribes of Israel and reign over them as the Son of God.

The appearance of a new star of Great Magnitude and luminescense, convinced them that it portends to the ancient prophecy.

The infant, born to Mary, a Jewish girl from Nazareth, who is the wife of Joseph, a carpenter, was first discovered by a group of shepherds who received the news of His birth from a band of angels while they were tending their flocks in the low lying hills outside the city.

Descending in a blaze of heavenly glory that prostrated the little group of men and boys with amazement, the divine visitors told them not to be afraid but to go to the stable in Bethlehem, where they would find the Christ in swaddling clothes and lying in a manger.

This the shepherds did, being guided all the way by an angel. There they found the child, but recently born, with his parents and stable animals. So deep was the conviction of the angel's message upon them, that they immediately accepted Him as the promised Saviour, and fell upon their knees and worshiped him.

Following in quick succession the visit of the shepherds was a caravan of wise men, or Magi, from humble birthplace bearing jewels and precious gifts. To them too, this was a long-awaited event, since they are close students of astronomy, and were watching for the star. When it appeared they regarded it as the sign that the child had been born which the prophet had foretold.

While the largest part of the population here is talking of the event in tones of unsuppressed awe, and plainly regard it as a means by which they will be delivered from their Roman oppressor, there are many who are frankly skeptical. They feel that the future Christ will come from a more significant source.

The whole atmosphere here has been one of unusual excitement for the past few days since that was the time decreed by Augustus Caesar for all tax payers in Judea to be registered. Mary and Joseph being of the house of David, were required to come to Bethlehem, and although Mary was an expectant mother, and the 50-mile journey from Nazareth in Galilee was extremely arduous for her, the urgency of the order was such that they dare not say no.

From the meager details gained from keepers of public places, it appears that Joseph had failed to make any reservation for lodging. The low temperature of the winter night forced them to the stable where they made themselves as comfortable as they could in the straw. They suffered no ill effects from the experience, however, and those who visited the little family after the birth became known, report that an aura of light transformed the dingy surroundings into a place of beauty.

Mary indicated that she would call the child Jesus.

Herod in Dread, Seeks to Delude Sages from East

Manger Miracle Told Over and Over As Groups Collect

JERUSALEM, Dec. 25—Beginning the Year of Our Lord 1. — An apprehensive Herod sits on the throne of Judah, and is much disturbed at the significance of the Messiah in Bethlehem.

This was brought to light with the recent visit here of sages from the East who were seeking the newborn King of the Jews. Having heard of their inquiries, Herod hastily called together his chief priests and scribes who write the laws, and demanded them to tell him more of the prophecies of Christ's coming.

Then he summoned the wise men for questioning, and led them to believe that, if they would go to Bethlehem, discover the Child and return and tell him about it, he would journey there himself to pay homage.

Those who heard Herod's interview with these Eastern wise men say he was given only evasive answers.

Political commentators say it is understandable that Herod should feel uneasy at the rise of a leader who will capture the imagination of a discouraged people. His reign has been a singularly unhappy one due to the pressure from Rome.

The Emperor Augustus has lately accumulated foreign property and subjects through a campaign of military invasions and controls about all in this part of the world that is worth taking. This has occupied the minds of the people, but has increased Roman extravagances. Palestine is one of these conquered countries and Herod is the King of Augustus's own choosing.

Some regard Herod's fear of a ruler who will overthrow him in a material sense as being unfounded.

They maintain that the significance of the Messiah is spiritual rather than political, and point out that he has always been prophesied as a Shepherd of Souls rather than a military deliverer.

Herod's nature, these commentators say, makes it impossible for him to understand a Prince of Peace.

Great Joy Pervades City of Bethlehem

BETHLEHEM, Dec. 25—Beginning the Year of Our Lord 1. — It is impossible to describe the feeling of great joy that pervades Bethlehem today as the coming of the long-heralded Messiah is realized by the majority of its inhabitants.

The shepherds probably experienced the most poignant sensation for it was to them that the news was first given. The little group who were guarding their flocks from foxes and wolves that still roam the hills of Palestine, speak with great wondering of last night's message from the sky.

The amazing light together with the chanting of a heavenly host has brought an incoherence to their speech; but the radiance of their face is more impressive than any words could be.

"An angel of the Lord suddenly flashed before us and the glory of the Lord shone all around us," one of them said.

"We were frightened but the angel said, 'Have no fear, This is good news. I am bringing to you news of great joy that is meant for all the people. Today you have a saviour born in the town of David, the Lord, Messiah. And here is a proof to you; you will find a baby wrapped up and lying in a stall for cattle'."

Then a host of heaven's army suddenly appeared beside the angel, extolling God and saying, "Glory to God in the highest, and on earth peace, good will toward men."

"Having sung this song, the angel went back to heaven, the light faded away, and all was dark as before."

"We began talking together about these strange sights and sounds," the shepherd related.

"We didn't stop to think what would happen to our flocks, or wait until morning, we went at once. When we saw all was as the angel had said, we told everyone about it."

Brilliant Star Presaged Secret Mystery of Birth

JERUSALEM, Dec. 25—Beginning the Year of Our Lord 1. — Eminent astrologers here admit to the appearance of a new star. They say that at infrequent periods such stars, or novae, as they term them, suddenly appear with great brilliance, are evident for a time, then fade away.

Last night's star, they explained, resulted from the conjunction of two great planets, Jupiter and Saturn.

Magi's Wisdom is Greatest in World Declares Casper

BETHLEHEM, Dec. 25—Beginning the Year of Our Lord 1. — This is what Casper, one of the wise men, said about their belief:

"The wisdom of the Magi is the greatest of all wisdoms on earth, because it knows its own ignorance. And that is the secret of power. We worship fire as a symbol of Him. We keep men always looking and waiting for a new sunrise but we ourselves understand that the darkness is equal to the light and that the conflict between them will never be ended."

Herod is known to be extremely interested in the journeys of the Magi to Bethlehem.

Two Capture Burglary Suspect

Two young men, changing a tire in a Casa de Oro service station early Sunday morning, chased and caught a suspected burglar, says a report filed with Lemon Grove Sheriff's Station.

Deputies R. L. Cottingham and G. G. Terrell reported that Steven Craig Reed, 18, of La Mesa, a Grossmont Junior College student, and Kevin Dana Duckworth, 20, of 10030 Diversion dr., Spring Valley, chased and caught Anthony George Hofle, 24, of 10030 San Juan st., Casa de Oro, at about 4:45 Sunday morning.

The young men said they heard the sound of breaking glass coming from the Rocky Home Dairy drive-thru at 9951 Campo rd., and when they invetigated, saw a figure carrying a cadboard carton dash into a drairage ditch behind the dairy and run east.

Duckworth pursued on foot while Reed jumped in the car to give chase. After about a block, Hofle was found lying in the drainage ditch at the corner of Campo and Cordoba, it was reported. The capturers told the deputies that the suspect had discarded his loot in the ditch.

The cardboard carton contained $4.11 worth of egg nog and yogurt, obtained by reaching through the broken refrigerator glass doors, investigators said.

Hofle, according to Cottingham and Terrell, said, "they'd never have caught me if I hadn't been suffering from malnutrition."

Manhole Work Begun On E. Broadway

Work began last week on a splicing manhole for the Pacific Telephone Company on Broadway at its east end.

The job, to cost $820,000, is being undertaken prior to realignment of Broadway, which will occur next year when the state constructs an intersection between Highways 94 and 125.

Mike Sund, telephone company spokesman, said that six lesser manholes will be put in the area, and that 19 major cables will be relocated. The one shown in the photo is the largest in the county, according to Hood Corporation foreman Larry Dupras, the company digging the hole.

When completed, the manhole will measure 19 by 15½ feet with a depth of 14 feet. 19 major cables carrying 29,450 lines will fan out of the system, serving Lemon Grove, Spring Valley, Casa de Oro and Dulzura.

Sund said 41,000 feet of conduit will be laid seven and one-half miles in all directions from the central point. The conduit will cross both Broadway and Campo road.

Little disruption is seen on those thoroughfares, Sund said, since the telephone company will work at night and leave one lane open. That work is scheduled to begin shortly after Christmas.

Sund said he had been informed that utilities in the freeway work area will be moved underground, which means removal of poles now carrying electricity.

SPLICING MANHOLE — This structure on Broadway at its east end is not the world's largest outhouse, but the beginning of relocation of utility facilities prior to the realignment of Freeway 94. Work was begun last week by the Hood Corporation of San Diego on a splicing manhole for Pacific Telephone.

CDO Group Urges 'Dimout' For Yule

The Casa de Oro Business Association reevaluated its tradition of sponsoring Christmas decorations in the business community of Casa de Oro. For the first time in many years, members of the business community are not encouraged to "light up" for Christmas.

The associaton urges all business and private homes to remember the energy crises when decorating this year.

The association will present gifts to the members of the business community whose Christmas decorations give evidence of being the most attractive, creative, and manually created with the least amount of commercial energy consumed.

Distribution Announced Of Funds For Child Nutrition Programs

The U. S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) has announced plans for distribution of funds totaling $1.224 billion contained in the 1974 Appropriations Act to help finance child nutrition programs in the 50 States, the District of Columbia, and the five territories.

This is an increase of $173 million—or 16 percent—over the actual level of $1.051 billion obligated in the fiscal year 1973. This increase will be greater when additional funds to finance higher reimbursement rates for lunches and breakfasts are obtained in a supplemental appropriation later this year.

USDA's Food and Nutrition Service said the funds appropriated for Section 4 school lunch and school breakfast programs will be paid to States and territories, this year, on the basis of performance, rather than by an allocation formula. That is, the appropriate rate of reimbursement specified in the newly-enacted Public Law 93-150 will be paid the State for each lunch and breakfast served to children. Letters of credit amounting to $683 million are being initially allocated to the State agencies, based on the number of meals served in each State in fiscal year 1973. Educational officials that administer these programs in each of the States have been informed on the amount of funds being distributed to their states.

A total of $97.1 million was appropriated for the Special Milk Program, the same amount as in last fiscal year. $95.4 million of these funds have initially been made available to the States, based on the percentage of total funds used by each State for the Special Milk Program last fiscal year.

A total of $3.5 million—the same as last year—is divided among the States for their administrative expenses in operation of these child nutrition programs.

A total of $22.1 million was appropriated for the Nonfood Assistance Program (Equipment) this year, a $6 million increase over last year. An additional $6 million was allocated earlier this year.

A total of $20 million was appropriated for the year-round portion of the Special Food Service Program, a $775 thousand reduction from last year. However, an additional $10 million has been added from Section 32 Special Feeding Program funds to cover States where the apportioned share of the $20 million is not sufficient to maintain program needs and provide a minimum increase of 22 percent for all States.

In addition to this direct cash assistance, a total of $313.7 million assistance to child nutrition programs is scheduled to be made available in the form of commodities distributed to the States during this fiscal year, which ends on June 30, 1974. Congress alo appropriated $50.6 million of Section 32 funds for the Summer portion of the Special Food Service Program for fiscal year 1974 which had been allocated previously.

Employers Who Train Will Get Half Pay For Workers

Employers will be repaid half of the starting salary of trainee workers under a special program, a state official said last week.

Albert Mendoza, District Administrator of the Department of Human Resources Development (HRD), said San Diego County employers may be reimbursed when they agree to hire and train a job ready person, male or female, who is unskilled or whose skills have become obsolete.

This is accomplished through HRD's Jobs Optional program, Mendoza said: "The worker goes on the payroll and is trained while working. The employer selects the person he wants to hire from applicants referred to him by HRD. However, an employer must have reached an agreement to enter into the Jobs Optional program before referrals can be made. The applicants will be job ready, in that they have a desire to work and are not beset with problems that make them untrainable," he said.

To enter this program, the employer must have the facilities and experienced staff to train while the trainee is on the job. A formalized training situation is not required, as the intent of the program is to learn by doing the work, Mendoza said.

The potential trainees are not from any particular segment of the labor force. They are obtained from the same labor force in San Diego County from which the employer would normally select new employees. The program is open to male and female trainees and applies to most occupations and skills.

There are some restrictions on occupations in which training can be done. The training must be in an occupation or skill that requires at least four weeks of training and one that has a good potential for advancement, he said.

As an incentive to the employers, half of the trainee's wages are reimbursable as a training allowance. HRD recognizes that additional costs are incurred during training and reimbursement is made to the employer to offset these extraordinary costs of training. Reimbursement to the employer is normally 50 percent of the starting salary of the trainee during the training period. Reimbursement is made upon completion of the training.

The Jobs Optional program has excellent advantages for the trainee as well as the employer. The trainee is actually working and drawing a pay check while training. The employer gets a person trained to his standards while minimizing the cost of training by 50 percent.

Any employer in San Diego County can obtain detailed information about the Jobs Optional program by calling one of the HRD offices in San Diego County or by calling the Jobs Optional Training Unit at 236-7512 or 236-7552.

Ireland: 52 Years Later

Early this month an Associated Press story out of Sunningdale, England, noted that the most ambitious attempt to settle the Irish question in more than half a century opened with British and Irish leaders agreed that they had made important progress.

If members of that conference are telling the truth, and there is evidence since that they are not, it would be one of the better developments of this generation of the problems of that beleaguered country.

52 years ago this month (December 7, 1921), the British and Irish signed a treaty by which it was thought the problems between the two countries were resolved.

But a half-century of bloodshed followed, and, as late as this week — the week before Christmas — blood is still being shed over Irish boundaries and regional rule.

The Right Reverend John W. McDonagh, he of Irish birth, has been a patient informant for this newspaper regarding the plight of hapless Irish Catholics caught up in the Irish dilemma. Father McDonagh was pastor of St. John of the Cross church in Lemon Grove for many years. Just before his retirement several years ago, he re-visited Ireland only to return even more disturbed by the continuing assassination of Irish Catholics in Northern Ireland.

Fr. McDonagh, an avid reader, subscribes to Irish newspapers and he frequently forwards marked articles of specific interest to us.

The most recent is an editorial in the IRISH ECHO which makes a graphic representation of what is faced today in parts of Ireland.

The heading: "Open Season on Catholics".

The article, in part: "Over the past several weeks the murder of Catholics and the destruction of Catholic dwellings and businesses has been escalated by assassins in Northern Ireland.

"In almost all of these cases the violence has been directed against people not politically involved in any movement or organization.

"Militant Protestant organizations have claimed responsibility for some of the murders and bombings, and the British Government has now banned some of them.

"But there is reason to question the will of the British Army or the Northern police to apprehend and prosecute these wanton killers.

"While the Irish Republican Army is vigorously pursued by the army and the police, organizations, such as the Ulster Defense Association, are virtually condoned by the Northern authorities. UDA is associated with the Ulster Volunteer Force and the Ulster Freedom Fighters — both now outlawed. But in many areas there is cooperation between the British forces and the UDA. UDA has close links with UFF and UVF. UFF admits murders and bombings of Catholics. British forces fail to apprehend murderers. Arrests and convictions have been pitifully few."

A few days earlier in the DUBLIN SUNDAY PRESS was a headline over an article by one of its columnists which read: "Anti-Catholic Killers Getting a Free Hand."

The IRISH ECHO, noting the headline, observed "It's open season on Catholics. No permit is necessary."

And it all started 52 years ago when some government official decreed that a man-made boundary—a line on a map—would solve a political problem.

Best Climate on Earth

The LOS ANGELES TIMES goes out of its way to become a troublemaker here.

Last week, in a page 1 article, the TIMES questioned the authenticity of Lemon Grove's vaunted claim to climate fame.

The lemon, as everyone knows, is in the plaza at Broadway and the San Diego Arizona and Eastern RR tracks. The sign across the lemon's base reads: "Best Climate on Earth".

Challenging the claim is Redwood City in San Mateo County. The slogan there is "Climate Best by Govenment Test."

The TIMES notes that the "best climate" claim is only for Lemon Grove because the lemon is situated within the "city limits" of Lemon Grove. The reporter didn't do his homework too well. Lemon Grove isn't a city. Yet, the reporter fairly states that the Lemon Grove Chamber of Commerce guarantees 342 sunny days a year and that the locale is "ideal for those suffering from sinus, asthma or bronchitis."

The TIMES admitted that the source of Redwood City's claim might be questioned since no one there can ascertain what government and what test provided the slogan to one Wilbur Doxey in 1935 who won $10 for it in a citywide contest sponsored by the Redwood City Chamber of Commerce.

Thirty years after the slogan was officially adopted, the REDWOOD TRIBUNE apparently had some misgivings about the authenticity of the claim and questioned Doxey regarding regarding its source. Doxey said he thought he read it in the San Francisco Chronicle long before the contest. The article, he believes, referred to a worldwide survey conducted by Kaiser Wilhelm of Germany who listed three ideal climate spots. One was in the Canary Islands. Another one is the Mediterranean coast of Africa, and the other — Redwood City. The German bum didn't even mention Lemon Grove.

A sign declaring "Climate Best by Government Test" once stretched across the old state highway at the northern entrance to the town. When the road was moved and widened, the sign was stashed behind a gasoline filling station nearby. That property was later sold and the sign was removed by the new owner. Burned, one should think.

The Lemon Grove Chamber of Commerce is prepared to provide the proof needed to substantiate its "best climate" claim.

And while it is doing that it will also provide some history regarding the birth of the lemon.

During the raging of this controversy Ms. Roseann Hoffman, a clerk at the L.G. Rexall store, was displaying a lemon she had grown. It weighs more than two pounds and has ten small banana-shaped lemons growing around it in sunflower array.

Top that, Redwood City!

Library Offers Hour-Long Family Film Show Dec. 27

An hour-long family film program comprised of four recent additions to the extensive San Diego County Library film collection, will be shown at the Lemon Grove Library, 7735 Pacific ave., on Thursday, December 27 at 7.30 p.m.

The beautiful film, "Saskatchewan: 45° Below Zero" shows how people adapt to an incredibly cold climate, to the point of loving it and thriving on it! "Dragon Stew" is an animated film about a glutton of a king who holds a contest to discover the most unusual recipe in his kingdom. And he gets his wish!

The two other films are also animated. "Mongrel Dog" is the story of a misfit puppy who is finally saved by a little girl. "Visit From Space" is a tale of a little girl who is very surprised when she meets up with a spaceman.

All the films are in color and the program is free. Any questions? The library can be reached by calling 463-5982.

Game Leads To Death Of Boy, 3

What began as a jolly day of play between uncle and nephew turned into a tragedy last Saturday in Casa de Oro, according to a report filed at the Sheriff's Station.

Three-year-old Sheril Tracy Reed, who lived at 4450 North ave., San Diego, was playing "cops and robbers" with his uncle, William L. Summit, 63, a retired Navyman. The little boy took an unloaded .22 caliber rifle out into the front yard, knocked on the door and shouted: "It's the cops, open up or you're dead."

He then pulled the trigger on the rifle, aiming at his uncle. In reply, Summit took a .38 caliber revolver from a closet shelf, aimed at his nephew and pulled the trigger, thinking the gun was unloaded, according to a report filed by Deputy T. L. Newman.

One bullet was fired, ripping through the front screen door and striking young Reed in the left cheek, Newman said. The Spring Valley Fire Department responded to a call at 1:12 p.m. and transported the lad to Grossmont Hospital, where he was reported dead on arrival.

Christmas Occupies SV Kiwanis

The "Spirit of Christmas" was upon the Spring Valley Kiwanis Club, Dec. 12, as they met in the Ox Bow Inn for breakfast, fellowship and business.

The Monte Vita High School Ensemble, directed by Bruce Beckman, provided the program, with some hearty Christmas carols.

The "Christmas Spirit" was also shown in the fact that Elmer Lash, the club's first president, has been home with serious illness for sometime, and the club has gone together to express gratitude for Lash's years of service, in the form of birthday greetings and "get well" salutations.

During the meeting plans were discussed for the annual Christmas party, which was held at the Reuben E. Lee on Harbor Island on Dec. 18, and there was further discussion for a children's party, scheduled for Dec. 26.

Two guests were introduced at the meeting: George Whyte, of Homeland Realty; and the Rev. Joe Olafson, the new director of Mt. Miguel Covenent Home, in south Spring Valley. Rev. Olafson succeeds Rev. Marlan Enns, who is going to Mexico for Christian duties. A farewell party will be held honoring Rev. Enns, at the covenent home on Jan. 6.

BofA Gets Bomb Threat

A bomb threat was telephoned last week to the Bank of America branch in Casa de Oro, sheriff's deputies reported.

Vault teller Frances Vizer told investigators that she got a call at 1:40 p.m. Tuesday, and a male voice, speaking very rapidly, said:

"I'm only going to say this once—the bomb is set to go off at two."

A search of the bank proved negative.

Valle de Oro Planners 'In Limbo' Until Next February, Brown Says

Valle de Oro's Planning Association is in limbo and will stay that way until at least February 5, Supervisor Dick Brown told the group's executive committee last week.

Last September, the board of supervisors moved to withhold staff support from local planning agencies which had not presented goals to the community. At an early December meeting, the supervisors extended, over the protests of Brown and Chairman Jack Walsh, the vacuum for another 60 days.

Brown told about 50 members of the association that if he and Walsh had not objected strenuously, the other three members of his board would have voted to cancel all local planning agencies.

"What we (Walsh and Brown) got was a compromise," he said, "rather than dissolution of groups such as yours." He said other supervisors felt that spending $1.5 million in five years and coming up with only two community plans was a waste of time and money.

"Don't abandon what you're doing," he said. "Keep on working on your goals, even though the whole concept may be rejected next February."

Brown said planning is a complicated procedure which needs "real expertise" and then told the group "there is more expertise in this room than there is downtown."

He suggested incorporation as a city or annexation to adjoining municipalities as a method of securing the association's goals. The area would then be under home rule, which would provide a basis for tax revenues.

The association generally viewed annexation or incorporation with apathy, preferring to work out plans to provide green belts and curb urban sprawl.

In response to a question asked by Chairman Roy Dieter about what should these people do for the next four months, Brown replied:

"This (in limbo) was not my choice. I am only one voice on the board, and there are four others. I have to convince at least two that local planning should continue to work.

"You may find it hard to believe, but I'm on your side."

He said he believed that the "real motivation (on the board of supervisors) is that community planning is a stumbling block to development."

In response to a suggestion by the supervisor that the association be broadened by including service clubs, Dave Herring suggested that the group's goals be submitted to the area's population, estimated at 50,000. That idea, Brown said, would be "too risky" to community planning.

Members of the association, which has been in existence for two years, felt that with proper staff support, their community plan could have been in existence within one year after formation.

Dieter noted that when Valle de Oro was formed in December, 1971, some 2,200 area residents attended an organization meeting.

"Now," he said, "we are down to a general membership of about 300.

"The county has been successful in creating apathy," he concluded.

Monte Vista Coed's Killer Found Guilty of Murder One

A Superior Court judge last week, in a non-jury trial, found Jerry Robert Schnick, 25, guilty of first-degree murder charges in the fatal stabbing of Carol Valkonen, 15, last June 12.

Judge Jack R. Levitt ruled that Schnick was sane at the time he knifed the Monte Vista High School co-ed to death, and that he had "deliberated" the act he was going to commit.

The judge spent an hour explaining his decision. He took the case under submission after a three-day trial in which most of the testimony came from four psychiatrists who had examined Schnick.

In an interview with sheriff's deputies at the time of his arrest, the judge said Schnick admitted driving past Miss Valkonen and turning his car around to park where the girl would have to pass. The girl, daughter of Mrs. Alberta Valkonen, 10767 Jamacha blvd., Spring Valley, was slain when she was en route to school, about 6:30 a.m., at Sweetwater Springs blvd. and Austin rd.

Schnick told sheriff's deputies who investigated the crime that when he got impulses "he went out looking or victims when he got these urges and that he took knives," Judge Levitt said.

Levitt ruled that Schnick had meaningfully reflected on the killing, harbored malice aforethought and deliberated and premeditated the killing.

Earlier, witnesses Tony M. Hernandez, 49, and his son, Dominic, 24, who live at 3310 S. Granada ave., Spring Valley, testified to their capture of Schnick.

While on their way to work, they said they saw Schnick, knife in hand, run across Austin dr. The younger Hernandez told the judge he saw the body of Miss Valkonen at the intersection, then turned his car around and chased and caught Schnick. Both men then held Schnick until deputies arrived.

Sentencing has been scheduled by Judge Levitt for January 3.

Burglary Charged

A Lemon Grove man was arrested Friday and charged with the November burglary of a Santee firm, reports filed at the Lemon Grove Sheriff's Station revealed.

Terrence Lynn Stewart, 18, 1559 San Altos pl., was picked up by Detective J. L. Clopton on charges he allegedly burgled the Santee Electronics Co., 9155 Mission Gorge rd., on November 26. Bail was set at $2,000.

Citations Given Spring Valley Man, Son, For Help In Capture

San Diego County Sheriff John Duffy has awarded citations to three citizens who helped Sheriff's deputies capture three young purse snatchers.

Victor Saba and his son Terry, of Spring Valley, and Harold Worley, of National City, were cited for their roles in the capture of the purse snatchers last September 25 in the K-Mart Shopping Center on Sweetwater Road.

The elder Saba was alerted by a bystander that two of the purse snatchers were trying to escape in a stolen car. Using his own vehicle, Saba chased the youths and finally forced them to a halt. In the process, he caused significant damage to his own car.

When their stolen vehicle was forced to stop, the two youths tried to escape on foot. Terry Saba pursued one of the purse snatchers to a nearby shopping center. There, with the help of some workmen, Terry was able to corner the youth and hold him until Sheriff's deputies arrived.

Worley saw the purse snatching in progress. He rushed to the scene and was able to apprehend one of the juvenile suspects and hold him until Sheriff's deputies were on the scene.

In addition to the citations, Sheriff Duffy presented Worley with a Certificate of Appreciation and Victor and Terry Saba with engraved plaques. The Deputy Sheriff's Association also presented a check to Victor Saba to help repair the damage to his car.

"These three got involved," said Sheriff Duffy. "They are truly outstanding citizens of San Diego County."

The Sabas reside at 1000 Brucker ave., Spring Valley.

'Nervous' Bandit Shoots La Mesan In LG Holdup

A La Mesa man was shot in the arm by a "nervous" Negro bandit during a holdup last week of D & R One Hour Cleaners in Lemon Grove.

Reports on file at the Lemon Grove Sheriff's Station reveal that William J. Schaieb, 27, friend of Nancy Ann Heimdal, the clerk at the cleaning shop, was wounded during the robbery.

Miss Heimdal, 16, of Lemon Grove, told Deputy J. R. Lenwolde that the gunman first came into the shop about 7:10 p.m. December 11, to ask when she would close. He left, returning 30 minutes later when she and Shaieb were alone in the store.

As he entered, he brandished a pistol and ordered the two to lie down on the floor. Miss Heimdal complied, and as Shaieb started to do so, she said, he moved his right hand. The robber then shot him in the right arm. He was later taken to a San Diego hospital for treatment.

The bandit then said "Where's the money?" and forced her to get off the floor and open the cash register. He took $232.58, she reported.

The holdup man was described as having a short "Afro" haircut, about 6 foot 1 inch, in his mid thrties, weighing 170 pounds, and dressed in a burgundy colored shirt and beige double knit slacks.

December Charter Month For Group

December is charter member month for the Heartland Creative Community Association, says Glenn Murdock, president of the new organization.

"We hope to encourage creativity and fellowship between organizations to plan seminars and events on a united basis, to provide outlets for volunteers who care and want to serve, to establish a time table and make scheduled events more successful, to set up a resource bank of talents available to all, and to provide a channel of communication," Murdock said.

Suggested dues for charter members were set at $3 for students, $5 for individuals, $25 for organizations, $50 for sponsors and $100 for patrons, although no rigid fees have been established.

Those interested may join by sending a check to George Davies, Box 193, La Mesa, 92041.

Three Little Pigs Among the Missing

You've heard the story of the three little pigs — now hear the one told by Bill Gaines.

Gaines, who lives in El Cajon, reported to the Lemon Grove Sheriff's Station that three little pigs are missing from some livestock he was boarding at a ranch on the north end of Pegleg Mine Road near Jamul.

He bought $800 worth of livestock—among them a sow with 11 piglets five weeks old —from John W. Haynes, and said that Haynes had agreed to keep his purchase until a later date.

Gaines said that Monday night, when he fed his stock, mother pig and all 11 babies were in the pen, but when he went back Tuesday night, only eight pigs were to be found.

So far, a search has failed to turn up the missing porkers.

Boney's Home Burglarized

The La Mesa residence of former supervisor Henry A. Boney was burglarized last week while the family was absent, according to a report filed with the Lemon Grove Sheriff's Station.

Scott Boney, son of the former county official, told deputies he came home to 9535 Starlight ln. from school at noon Tuesday to find a color console television and a portable set missing. Investigators said the thieves entered by forcing a sliding glass door. Value of the missing articles was estimated at $700.

Factor VW Loses Cost Of Repairs

A man who gave his name as Robert Fleming of Pacific Beach allegedly swindled John Factor Volkswagen out of a repair bill of $100.21, it has been reported to the Lemon Grove Sheriff's Station.

Fleming left his car at the agency November 26, according to the report by Deputy R. A. Lindsay. After repairs, the vehicle was moved to a storage lot, which is secured only at night.

When Factor service personnel chacked the lot last week, they discovered Fleming's vehicle had been driven away. Lindsay concluded that there was a second ignition key in existence, since the first was left when the car was put in the shop for repairs.

A check showed the license plate and number was registered to a San Diego man, Lindsay reported.

Musical 'Delights' On Palm PTA Program

A Christmas musical program will highlight the PTA meeting tonight at Palm Junior High School.

Mount Miguel Choral groups, under the direction of Mrs. Linda McClain, and the Palm Chorus, under the direction of Mrs. Olga Mote, will provide the prgram which is said to be "a Christmas fantasia of choral delights."

A brief business meeting precedes the program.

The school and staff and the Palm Junior High school PTA officers and members are providing the program to wish the community a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year.

Pill Suspect Nabbed

A 22-year-old Rolling Hills man was arrested last week at the Spring Valley Swap Meet and charged with possession of dangerous drugs for sale.

Deputies of the Lemon Grove Sheriff's Station said Charles Lee Hitchcock was observed in a stuperous condition in the back of his pickup. A search of the vehicle turned up over 3,000 tablets of barbiturates and amphetamines, the report said.

WHEELS FOR A BUCK — It took a couple of minutes for it to sink in, but Mt. Miguel High School junior Larry Shunk jumped for joy last Friday night when he found out he had won a 1974 Pinto. He displays the car at school Monday morning. The car was awarded as part of a drive to raise funds for a swimming pool at the school. Sponsors are the Mt. Miguel Aquatic Center committee.

You and Your Pet

By Dr. Raymond A. Minor
Director, Veterinarian Services, Norden Laboratory

Picking the right Christmas toys for your pet is often done with the same care as selecting the right gift for a close friend or relative.

An amazing array of attractive toys and gifts is available for pets. There are toys that roll, bounce, squeek, and even talk.

When purchasing a Christmas toy, however, you should be aware of some problems they may present.

Covered squeeking toys are great favorites and safe enough, until they are torn apart and the metal squeeker is uncovered. If this should happen, your pet stands a chance of injuring itself.

Although they are attractive, cotton-stuffed animals can be stripped of the covering by energetic pets. The cotton stuffing may be chewed and swallowed, causing dangerous internal problems.

Avoid painted toys; they may prove to be poisonous if your pet chips and swallows the paint. Also, avoid soft rubber balls than can be torn to pieces and toys with strings and threads that may unravel.

Mechanical toys have the same disadvantage for pets as they do for small children —you must keep winding them all the time.

It is a good practice, if you do purchase a toy for your pet, to stay with him until you are certain that he cannot rip it apart or chew it up in pieces.

Some owners enjoy making toys for their pets. If you are one, then there are many safe and uncomplicated toys you can make.

Spools rate high on the list of enjoyable playthings. But they must be large enough so they cannot be swallowed. Spools used for basting thread are excellent for this purpose.

Empty cardboard boxes are perfect gifts your pet can crawl in and out of and rustle about on the floor.

Bones make good toys, provided they are hard enough not to splinter.

Hanging balls of tinfoil can keep your pet busily occupied during the exciting holiday season.

Before you purchase a toy or make one, closely observe your pet's activity and see how he handles playthings. The potential hazard of toys depends upon your pet's temperament and whether his playing environment is safe.

Ask yourself this questioin: "Can this toy be torn apart and swallowed?" If you can't answer the question, or are in doubt, consult your veterinarian.

Dr. Minor regrets that he is unable to personally answer letters from pet owners. He suggests that readers consult their own veterinarians when their pets have problems.

Church Choirs Perform

A Christmas musicale will be presented by the sanctuary and childrens choirs of First Baptist Church, 8111 Orange ave., La Mesa, at 6:30 p.m. Sunday (12-23).

Charles Galetar, minister of music, will direct the program, to include a trombone solo by Dennis Jaeger and a piano solo by Priscilla Galetar.

Dog Owners Save Dollars By Spaying

A stitch in time saved 2,181 animals from reproducing because their owners used the County of San Diego Spay and Neuter Clinic program in its first four and half months of operation.

"These owners can save $18 this year since one free two-year license will be given for female dogs spayed after Jan. 18, 1972," said Dr. H. C. Johnstone, County Veterinarian. "That $18 they save on the free license will cover much of the surgical fee."

The yearly fee for an unspayed female dog is now $10, twice the fee for a spayed female or a male dog. A two-year license costs $18.

For spay/neuter information, Dr. Johnstone suggests pet owners contact their veterinarians.

The spay and neuter clinic program is a referral service through which certain veterinarians perform animal spay and neuter operations at a minimum fee. The county animal shelters can refer pet owners to spay clinics.

"While male sterilization reduces wandering in male dogs and cats, it still will not lower the birth rate if other fertile males are waiting to mate," Dr. Johnstone said. "The emphasis of the surgical sterilization program is on the female dog and cat."

County policy also encourages the adoption of male dogs to curb the surplus dog population.

Christmas Story Told At Church

Foothills United Methodist Church will present a living re-enactment of the Christmas story Friday through Monday in the parking lot at 4031 Avocado blvd., La Mesa.

Speakers will carry the music and narration out into the street for the benefit of spectators who wish to pull to the side and park.

Performances will run from 7 to 9 p.m. Friday, Saturday and Sunday, and from 5 to 6:30 p.m. Monday, ending just prior to the church's Christmas Eve communion service.

A new culture and concention center has been opened in Acapulco, Mexico.

Vietnam Veterans Pass Up Training Benefits

In marked contrast to World War II veterans, California's Vietnam veterans today do not take full advantage of all educational benefits due them.

The contrast, says James E. Stratten, Chief of the Division of Apprenticeship Standards, State Department of Industrial Relations, may have occurred because Vietnam veterans are not aware of the benefits.

Of the 15,000 California veterans in apprenticeship programs, for example, many do not even apply for financial assistance entitled them under the Federal G.I. Bill, according to Stratten.

Stratten also believes that many of California's 800,000 Vietnam era veterans are unaware that they can go into apprenticeship programs, learn skilled trades, and be paid a monthly allowance in addition to receiving their regular wages.

This is particularly true of minority men and women, Stratten says, who are being actively sought today by local labor-management apprenticeship committees.

A recent survey by the Division of Apprenticeship Standards shows that 40 percent or 15,028 of the 37,500 men and women in State-approved apprenticeship program or on-the-job training at least from six months to three years.

The veteran apprentice's financial entitlement ranges from $160 to $196 depending on the individual case. He is eligible to receive this entitlement for six to 36 months.

Information about veterans' assistance may be obtained from the Division of Apprenticeship Standards, local veterans' organizations, U.S. Veterans' Administration, County Veterans' Service offices and veterans' employment representatives at State Department of Human Resources Development offices.

U. S.Elevator Wins $1.3 Million Contracts

Contracts amounting to $1.3 million have been won by U. S. Elevator Corporation to produce and install passenger elevators on five major projects, it was announced by the firm's parent company, Cubic Corporation.

Largest of the agreements was a $290,000 pact calling for manufacture and installation of geared elevators in the State Agencies Building, Tulsa, Oklahoma. Estimated completion date on the eight-story project is December 1974.

A $275,000 contract was awarded the elevator manufacturer by the University of Texas for the school's new 10-floor medical center in Houston. The order calls for production and installation of high speed geared and hydraulic units. The job is scheduled for completion by May 1975.

The company received a $260,000 contract for a high speed geared elevator package to be installed in the 12-story Dodge Center office building in Washington, D.C. by mid-1974.

A $225,000 contract was also awarded U. S. Elevator for a bank of hydraulic units. They are to be installed in a seven-floor apartment complex at Hillsboro Beach, Florida. Completion date is June 1974.

High speed geared type elevators will be built and installed in the nine-floor Peppertree Bay Condominiums at Sarasota, Florida under a $220,000 agreement. No completion date has been set, the company said.

U. S. Elevator is headquartered in Spring Valley. 32 sales and service offices are run by the company nationwide. The concern says it is the sixth largest manufacturer of elevators in the country today.

New Minimum Wage Adopted Effective March 4, 1974

The California Industrial Welfare Commission last week adopted an order establishing a minimum wage of $2.00 per hour.

The state minimum wage for the first time applies to men as well as women. There are lesser rates for learners, minors and students.

The order will become effective March 4, 1974.

The new minimum wage of $2.00 per hour would produce an annual wage for 40 hours per week for full-time employment of $4,160.

The minimum wage set by IWC in 1968 has been $1.65 an hour.

Theodore J. Todd, Chairman of the Industrial Welfare Commission, stated that the IWC under Labor Code Section 1178, is charged to establish a minimum wage adequate to supply the cost of proper living of a single individual only.

The United States Department of Labor's Manpower Administration report of January 16, 1973 established $4,300 as the poverty level for a non-farm family of four.

The new Industrial Welfare Commission order will apply to all persons engaged in various trades and occupations, whether paid on a time, piece rate, commission or other basis with a few exceptions.

The order will not apply, however, to certain categories, including employees directly employed by the Federal Government, State or any county, incorporated city or town or other municipal corporation; student nurses in schools accredited by the California Board of Nursing Education and Nurse Registration and Psychiatric Technician Examiners, or exempted by provisions of certain sections of the Business and Professions Code.

The order will likewise not apply to outside salesman, baby-sitters or personal attendants, professional actors or actresses, or to apprentices regularly indentured under the State Division of Apprentice Standards.

Another first in the history of California was proposed by the Commission in establishing a Household Occupation Order which will cover domestic workers.

Gas Additive Warning Voiced

Consumers frightened by the prospect of running out of gas might be tempted to buy gasoline additives which promise more miles to the gallon.

The Department of Consumer Affairs warns California consumers to beware of unscrupulous companies that might be trying to take advantage of the present fuel crisis by offering products purporting to increase gasoline mileage. Increased cost might be the only thing added to your gasoline bill.

If you are contemplating buying a product in this area, why not check with your service station attendant or automobile dealer and ask him what he thinks?

But if you just cannot resist the temptation to buy the product, try one and check to see if you do in fact get better mileage.

Some School Buses May Be Defective In Steering Gear

Owners of school buses built by Gillig Brothers Company of Hayward between 1962-1966 were warned today by the manufacturer and the California Highway Patrol of a potential defect that could result in loss of steering.

The malfunction would come through the failure of a bearing mounted on the bus steering column shaft. The same bearing is installed on buses manufactured after 1966 but there is less probability of failure because of changes in the design of the steering shaft.

The problem exists only in buses equipped with power steering. It does not apply to "body-on-chassis" type school buses where Gillig Brothers manufactured only the vehicle body and the chassis came from another source.

School districts listed as owners of suspect buses are being notified of the problem by the company and advised that earlier models should be removed from service, disassembled and examined. Newer models may remain in service but should be inspected without delay.

CHP Commissioner Walter Pudinski said the patrol is alerting schools, churches and similar organizations that own buses and requesting them to take corrective action prior to further use.

The problem came to light when the CHP discovered damaged shafts on two buses subjected to routine inspections.

Pudinski urged any organization or individual in possession of a suspect Gillig-built bus who is not contacted to check with either the company or the nearest CHP office for further details and instructions.

TAKE FIVE

By John Wirges

Well Mom, it's finally over. The football season came to an end Sunday and now you can get Dad up out of his easy chair, shake off the cobwebs, clean up the crumbs from all those half time snacks and get him out in the backyard and garage to do those little jobs he's been promising to do all fall.

Finally it gets to be your turn for his attention. It's service on call for the family needs.

Down will come the kids swimming pool, growing green and moldy since last used sometime in September. Now comes a fresh load of salt for the water softener. The grass will finally get its winter trim. The hedges, too.

And that mess in the garage? The cans of paint, the collection of tons of this and that on the work bench, that pile of old clothes he promises to go through to separate the work and fishing togs from the stuff to be thrown, or given away . . . now it all gets attention.

Now comes washed windows and straightened closets. The cars get washed, too, so even if you can't buy gas for them, they won't look like a lump of dirt in the driveway.

And now there is to be time for really getting at those bills and deciding what to get aunts and uncles, inlaws and outlaw relatives for Christmas. And get Dad to actually get out into a store and look how prices have boosted the family budget past sanity.

And maybe there will even be time to get the family together for an outing at the beach on one of the warm Sundays. Or maybe a trip to the mountains and a look at real snow, and reflect on the wonder of four season.

But wait. Hold on there. Whoa, now. Desist. Cease, Avast and belay. That's not the way the old ball is bouncing.

Post Season To Come

The regular season is over, but that ain't no reason to think the end of football has come. The good Lord, in his (or her, depending on how you choose to look at things like that) has seen fit to give the All-American viewer enough post season football to glut the appetite.

First, there are the playoffs. And of course, the colleges are far from finished. They have a series of contests called "bowl games" that rival god sense and scheduling. But they make money and when you come right down to it, that's what it's all about.

So the simon pures will tangle in such Bowls as the Orange, Sugar, Rose, Cotton, Tangerine, Peach and Senior and the professionals will conduct services in such post season meetings as the "Playoffs."

For instance, instead of getting Dad out into the garage Saturday, he will probably defer the job until the completion of the Washington-Minnesota game, to be followed by the Pittsburg at Oakland contest. On Sunday there's the John Hadl led Los Angeles Rams visiting Dallas and Cincinnati at Miami games.

The following weekend will host the American and National Conference title games and then comes SuperBowl.

All this followed by the Pro Bowl due up on Jan. 20. And then there's the NFL draft, and the "Football talking" season. And before you know it, the Coaches All-American game and the College All-Star contest. And then July will have rolled around and the whole thing starts all over again.

The football season over? Why, the best part is just beginning. So, stock up on the snacks, put in a load of beer and hang up the "do not disturb" sign. The "Second Season" is just getting under way.

Mt. Miguel Loses In First Round

By Roger Price

Mt. Miguel's varsity basketball team lost in the first round of the Kiwanis Tournament Tuesday. The loss was a tightly fought contest with Madison with the final tally showing Madison winning, 75-73.

Berwyn Parker led Miguel's effort with a game high 29 points. He scored 14 in the first quarter and had 20 by the half. Steve Solomen followed Parker with 17. Bob Baxter put in 13 to end up the scorers in double figures. The other scorers were Rueben Ray 6, Chris Landry and Dale Hoffman had 4 apiece. Hoffman was also the leading rebounder with 14.

The team is now in the consolation bracket in the tournament and is expected to play San Dieguito in the next round.

Steve Solomen Grossmont MVP

Steve Solomen of Mt. Miguel, was honored last week for his waterpolo season that finished several weeks ago. He was picked as the Most Valuable Player in the Grossmont League for the second straight year.

He led final league standings with 95 goals, 41 ahead of the second leading scorer. Steve was the first man picked for the first team all-league and won fairly easily for the MVP. Gary Horgan and Steve Craig also from the Miguel team recevied Honorable Mention.

Coach Roger Moreau said that he is doing his best to try to get Steve nominated to the All-American water polo team.

Channel Tunnel

The proposed tunnel under the English Channel between England and France is tentatively scheduled for completiion by sometime in 1980 or 1981.

SAN DIEGO'S ALL-TIME golf great, Billy Casper of Chula Vista, will compete in the Andy Williams SD Open Jan. 22-27. The former two-time U.S. Open Champion and winner of 50 tour events tied for second in the 1973 AWSDO.

Casper Seen As AWSDO Golf Likely Winner

Billy Casper's back.

Golf's third-leading money winner of all time, an entry in the San Diego Open Jan. 22-27, some 20 miles north of his Chula Vista home, made a splendid comback in 1973 after having failed to win a major tournament in 1972 for the first time in 17 years.

The 42-year-old San Diego native won the Western and Hartford Opens in 1973 and finished eighth on the money list with $129,474. His career earnings of $1,421,502 are topped only by Jack Nicklaus and Arnold Palmer.

Casper won the first of a total of 50 PGA tournaments in 1956, his sophomore year on the tour. Every year thereafter he captured at least one championship and placed in the first dozen in earnings until 1972 when he slipped to 41st in winnings. Even then, he lost a sudden death playoff in the Byron Nelson classic and had to drop out of the Kaiser because of illness when in second place after rounds of 71, 66 and 69.

The former two-time U.S. Open champion and PGA Player of the Year topped the money lists in 1966 and 1968. He won the Vardon Trophy for the low-stroke average on the tour in 1960, '63, '65, '66 and '68, a tribute to his amazing consistency.

Although he is yet to win the AWSDO in its present format, Billy took first in the antecedent San Diego Open tourney in 1966 at Stardust Country Club in 268, one stroke over the all-time 21-year record. His best AWSDO record was a tie for second last February.

Defeats Can Make Champ Of Middleweight Dave Love

by Max Goodwin

Mickey Davies' boxing emporium closed down Friday until January 11 after a successful season.

His emporium is the Coliseum at 14th and E streets in San Diego.

Mickey brought a dimension of respectibility to boxing that had been sorely missing here over the years. He brought such names as Art Hafey, Jimmy Heair and Bobby Chacon. And fans frequently filled the 3,300 capacity Coliseum.

The Coliseum also attracted David Love, a middleweight boxer with great possibilities.

Love was born in San Diego, played football for Kearney High school, and is employed by the San Diego Post Office. A tall, intelligent man of 24, with good boxing skills in the fashion of Sugar Ray Robinson, Love's progress was stymied recently by some bad advice and by circumstances.

Never an Amateur

Love started fighting in 1971 without an amateur scrap. He started as a pro and racked up a 20-3 record as he progressed.

But he became too ambitious. And he turned his ear from his handlers when he was invited to fight the state middleweight champion, George Cooper. His advisors should have known a guy holding the championship never calls up a fighter if he figures to lose to him. Love had begun to believe he was better than he was. Actually, he was good, but he lacked experience. He got plenty of experience in the past few weeks!

Cooper handed him a knockout. Love's first. It came in the seventh round of the ten round bout in Santa Rosa. Until he was KO'd Love gave a good account of himself.

Chastened, but not discouraged, he jumped at a chance to fight a 21-year old Chilean, Renato Garcia, who himself is on the way to a championship (21-0). He knocked Love down twice in the seventh round of that fight and Love lost it on a ten round split decision. That loss seemed to tear at his confidence.

He became apologetic for his performance although he had done the best he could. The fight was a great one. Fans demanded a re-match and got it.

Short Re-Match

Friday, Love and Garcia had their second meeting before a near-capacity crowd. The fight didn't last long. The end came for David Love at 2:44 of the second round. A well-executed left jab and right cross to the jaw dropped him and he was counted out as he rose to resume the fight.

In the dressing room he was disconsolate and depressed. He sat on the table and gazed at the floor, neither hearing nor answering anyone. Physically, he was fine. But he was emotiionally fractured.

He may have been thinking that ignorance led him to the Cooper fight too soon. He certainly had to believe that circumstances were against him in the two fights with Garcia that followed. If he thought that he was right.

In the first fight Love was leading until the seventh round when he was decked twice. He wasn't hurt and he came back strongly in the 8th, 9th and 10th rounds. On this reporter's scorecard, and most of the others, Love was winner. But the officials gave the nod to Garcia mostly because of the knockdowns, but even then it was a split decision.

Bad Breaks Come in Pairs

He must have been thinking that no other fighter had to suffer bad breaks twice. But a question arose in that one too. Reporters at ringside claim there was a faulty cadence in the referee's count. Reporters at ringside didn't hear the count go above "nine." And Love was on his feet when the referee ruled him "knocked out." Love claimed a short count but to that he honestly believes that Garcia has yet to beat him.

By Wednesday anger had overcome his depression and frustration. He was "getting up off the floor" psychlogically. That's good. Bouncing back from a disputed decision is the mark of a champion, they say. Most champions have faced adversity—and later achieved success and fame.

Dave Love is more humble today—a splendid attitude for a fighter on his way to the top. He's had his bad breaks. The law of averages says he'll get some good ones. He deserves them. Standing happily with him will be little Juan Bustamante, his trainer and Dave Roberts, his handler, and Mickey Davies, who encouraged him.

Dave Love will wear the middleweight belt some day partly because he took his defeats like a man and was determined to come back and win.

Kansas 'Cats' in Aztecs' Opener

Powerful Kansas State U. Wildcats of the Big 8 will test S.D. State U. tomorrow at 8 p.m. in the San Diego Sports Arena in the 1973-74 home basketball opener for the Aztecs.

Kansas State won its first three games of the year, beating Utah (87-82), SMU (77-61) and Texas (71-63) before losing to Arizona State 71-66. The Wildcats, however, topped Iowa 105-67 and BYU 95-85. The 100 points against Iowa was the first time Kansas State had scored 100 or more points in 86 games and only the second time in 167 games. Kansas State, is averaging 83.5 points a game on offensive this year while allowing 71.5.

Totems, Bucks to Whack at Gulls Home Record This Week

The San Diego Gulls, winners in 12 of their last 16 games, have two home games scheduled this week at the San Diego Sports Arena. Tonight the Seattle Totems will face the Gulls and on Saturday night, the Portland Buckaroos will provide the opposition. Faceoff for both games is 8 p.m.

San Diego set a club mark with the win on Saturday night over Phoenix with their 8th consecutive home victory. The Gulls now own a 13-3-0 record on home ice. The team unbeaten record at home is 10 consecutive games, set during the 1968-69 season. But the latter record includes ties. Both the Totems and the Bucks are notorious "spoilers" and the week-end games promise great excitement.

After two losses on the road last week in Seattle and Portland, the Gulls took two games from the Phoenix Roadrunners in a pair of "must" wins. Friday in Phoenix the Gulls beat the Runners 3-1 on goals by Kerry Bond, Bob Hurlburt and Murray Kennett. Then on Saturday, Kerry Bond was the big star, scoring the three goal hat trick to lead the way to a San Diego 5-3 victory. Jim Shires and Bob Courcy also tallied for the Gulls.

Goalie John Adams, truly an "iron man" in the nets, has now played in 17 consecutive games for the Gulls (as of December 17). His goals against average is down to 2.98 and he still has played more games and minutes, made more saves and won more games than any other goalie in the Western League.

Thursday night will be a special night for the students when the Gulls take on Seattle. All students will be admitted in the $3 reserved seat area for only $1. The discount tickets will have to be purchased at the Arena ticket office.

Saturday night is Toys for Tots Night. All fans are encouraged to bring a toy to help the Marine Corps Reserve in their campaign to give toys to needy children. The toys must be new or useable.

All fans that bring a toy will be given a discount coupon good for $1.00 off on the $4.50, $3.50, $3.00 and $2.50 seats.

L.G. Store Joins National Gift System

A Lemon Grove-area merchant is part of a new nationwide gift-giving system that makes it possible to have a gift delivered almost anywhere in the country within hours. The firm is Lemon Grove Rexall Drugs at 7785 Broadway.

In Spring Valley, the service is available through Casa Drugs, 9927 Campo rd.

The system is operated by GiftAmerica, a subsidiary of the Western Union Corporation. Deliveries are made through the network of 5,500 GiftAmerica dealers across the nation, and purchases can be charged to most major credit cards.

Gifts, which are on display at GiftAmerica stires, range in price from $15 to $45. The local dealer relays all orders to GiftAmerica's computerized service center in St. Louis, Mo., which in turn, contacts the dealer nearest the recipient's home. This dealer signs the special occasion card, wraps the gift and delivers it.

Customers who can't visit a dealer may call a toll-free number — 800-342-5777 — to order from GiftAmerica directly.

Save Water, Save Energy

"Saving water is saving energy," the Helix Water District reminded today.

"Nearly all water used within the Helix District is pumped," pointed out District General Manager Byron Miller, "so that any water saved is also energy saved."

Miller said about 90 percent of the water used in the area comes through the Colorado River Aqueduct. As the water leaves the river to travel across the desert and mountains, it must be pumped a total of 1617 feet in five huge pumping plants.

"Many homes in our service area are on hillsides, and they depend on water pumped to hilltop storage tanks," Miller added.

Most of the water conserved during rain storms must also be pumped to be usable, the District spokesman pointed out.

The Helix Water District has started a study to determine the effects the energy crisis might have on the treatment and delivery of water in this area.

"We need more information about how we would meet emergencies during possible 'rolling blackouts'," said Miller.

Rent Receipts Stolen Again

For the second time in three weeks, burglars have invaded the manager's apartment at 1228 Presioca st., Spring Valley, and taken cash paid in for rent, it was reported Monday to the Sheriff's Station in Lemon Grove.

Constance M. Frederick, who earlier had reported the loss of $285, said $110 cash and a check were taken during the second theft.

Deputies said the front door of the apartment was jimmied and the cash was taken from a receipt book in a desk.

The Unlit Christmas

Dorothy Dye is a 17-year old Helix High School senior. She jotted these lines in "just a few minutes".

Because it ties together the holiday idea as well as the energy crunch, it is particularly appropriate.

Merry Christmas!

by Dorothy Dye

'Twas the week before Christmas and all through the town
Not a single house lit all the lights taken down
Inside the home sat a family so sad
Memories of Christmas lights all that they had
Then right through the door came Santa himself
All bundled in blankets with one little elf
"Now sit down beside me and give me a smile
And listen real closely for just a short while
The energy crisis has hit all of us
My reindeer are leased so I hopped on a bus
Now don't be bereaved as we sit in the dark
Not even the lights shine in Balboa Park
The tree's artificial the boughs are all fake
But try to be jolly for everyone's sake
Bring out the candles and wind up the clock
Put up the holly and sew up your sock
Since the Christ Child was born in the dark of the night
And the North Star shown down as the world's only light
I leave you one thought before I depart
May the spirit of Christmas still glow in your heart"

A Tijuana Trip

Larry Stillman, a Lemon Grove free-lance writer, tells an interesting story concerning a Baja California youngster whose fate was death — until a concerned Gringo came onto the scene. The story is gruesome, but it has a happy ending. It is proper that it be told as Christmas nears.

by Larry Stillman

Less than an hour's drive below Tijuana, deep in hills scarred by rut-lined roads—roads that become narrow trails—is a scrubby little village.

The community is made up of 16 or so shacks in a single row on the crest of a hill overlooking a dump. The dwellings are constructed of scrap lumber, discarded tin and waxed cardboard.

This was our destination—Joe Brown's Village. We were on a mission of charity, bringing a carload of church-contributed food, clothing and toys to the village inhabitants.

We began passing out gifts even as we stopped. A near-hysterical swarm of hungry Mexicans milled about centering our car in a wild montage of out-stretching, brown arms, flashing dark eyes and toothy grins. The used garments were grabbed and held against undernourished bodies for measurement. Food, toys and blankets were snatched and clutched to breast with a savage possessiveness. Very little English was heard, but it wasn't really required. Sometimes gratitude speaks with eloquence that needs no words.

Passing the smoldering dumping-ground enroute home brought thoughts of Joe Brown and the story behind this pathetic little settlement. Seven years ago Brown, a young auctioneer from Pomona, was visiting an orphanage on the outskirts of Tijuana. His modest car, struggling along on these steep trails, broke down. He went afoot for help taking a short-cut through the hills. Smoke rising from this same dump caught his eye. He also spotted in the distance a group of skeleton-like figures apparently looking for garbage to eat. Joe drew nearer, but the poor creatures scurried away at his approach.

When he reached the place where they had been, Brown stumbled over a soft object. It was the bloated body of an infant. Maggots were crawling around nostrils and mouth, yet the flesh was warm and the tiny chest cage showed slight movement. He picked up the baby, scrambled across the hills to the highway, and flagged a passing car for a ride to the nearest doctor.

Today, seven years later, Joe Brown is an ordained minister living in Chino. He makes frequent trips to the odd little village he had begun building soon after the incident. Recently Mr. Brown was able to persuade the Mexican Government to deed the land to these people. He is also making headway toward having a small health clinic established there to serve the outlying district.

The near-corpse Brown had stumbled over that afternoon, is now in a Tijuana orphanage; a healthy, exceptionally bright second-grader with hopes of becoming an educator.

Way Needed

There is enough oil shale in Colorado, Utah and Wyoming to yield about 600 million gallons of petroleum, according to government estimates, if it can economically be extracted.

Dear Santa

As Christmas draws near, and the post office becomes increasingly burdened with holiday mail, included in the mail sacks are letters addressed to Santa Claus.

Since it is tremendously difficult for the postman to reach the North Pole with the multitude of requests from local children at this time of the year when Santa is all but snowed in, the post office chooses to send the letters to this newspaper.

When the paper is printed, a copy is rushed to Santa so he has time to complete his Christmas list.

Here are the latest letters:

Dear Santa Claus:
I want a campfire, car, horsey and a gun and a belt and a saddle and a wagon train and a cowboy hat. I want a teddy bear. I want some candy. I want some clothes, socks and underwear. A new jacket not ripped.
David Fanning

Dear Santa Claus:
I want some new shoes, I want a jewerly box, a square one with flowers and inside when you open it up there's a ballerina inside. And I want a Barbie and a Barbie house. Coud I have some new dresses, long dresses too. A record player, any kind, and some jewerly. A doctor kit. Flash cards, 2 pair. A new purse, and a make-up kit.
Carol Fanning

To Santa Clause:
For Christmas I want baby alive. And some closes for her and some pants for winter camp. And Barbie beauty set. And a hat for winter camp. And pearfume and littel girls makeup.
From
Kathy Smith

Dear Santa:
I want a racing set.
Love,
Danny

Dear Santa Claus:
Please come to the Desnoyers' house on Christmas Eve. This is my list.
gun, jeep, watch, plane, road race set, pool, b-b gun, putt putt railroad, aura bump-a-lite pool, hockey, play family village, push button ark, dune buggie wheelie, basketball game, football.
Thank you for what you breng.

LGPA Plan Text Up For Review

With submission to a review committee of the Lemon Grove Community Plan text, members of the planning association last week culminated three years of hard work.

Retiring Chairman Jim Dorman, who was replaced by Ben Ela, said that some of his group gave as much as 300 hours of spare time to the project.

"One of the things we are pleased about," he said, "is that we're being listened to. Mrs. Ilse Henning of the Golden Avenue School used our goals in submitting a request for a special project to the county, and the project was approved." He referred to a park at Golden Avenue School.

Members of the review committee will meet January 3 at Lakewood Trailer Park prior to submitting the preliminary draft to the full committee at the January 10 meeting of the association.

Dorman, retiring after three years as chairman, said that a priority review of parks planned for the community resulted in an application for state bond act funds authorized by the legislature this year. The county has been allotted $3,150,000 for parks, and Lemon Grove Service District No. 52 has submitted an application for funds for its top priority, the six-acre park at Mt. Vernon and Massachusetts, he said. Helen Myers, chamber secretary, is the Lemon Grove representative to the service district.

Review of the priorities was due to proposed subdivision activities which will affect future park sites, Dorman said.

Priorities, in order, include Palm - Golden, Jamacha - Skyline, San Miguel-Cedral Place, Broadway - Waite, Madera-Dartmoor, Church - Olive and Grove Place-Costa Bella. A proposal at Mt. Vernon and Buena Vista was deleted from the list.

In addition to Ela, vice chairmen Franz Schnaubelt and Bob Holaday were named by the membership, and Carolyn Moss was elected secretary-treasurer.

Following adoption of the community plan text, it will be submitted to the county planning commission and the board of supervisors, probably in April, Dorman said.

LG Park Seen For Summertime

A community park project, now in the planning stage, should be completed at Golden Avenue School in Lemon Grove in time for summer use.

Participating are the Parent Teacher Association, Golden Avenue principal Mrs. Ilse Henning, the Lemon Grove School Board and the County Board of Education.

Altogether, about $4,000 in money, materials and labor will go into the park, which will be located at the southern end of the school's playground, adjacent to the junior high school. Although the area will be open to the public for summer use, its primary purpose is to provide open-air classrooms for the school.

The county board has allocated $3,000 for the project and the Lemon Grove board will absorb labor costs. The remainder of the necessary funds for materials and supplies will be raised by the PTA.

Planting of the lawn is expected to begin in April, with completion by late summer.

Accident Rate May Stay Same At 55, CHP Official Warns

Forecasts that traffic accidents and deaths will fall dramatially when the maximum speed limit becomes 55 mph brought a word of caution from California Highway Patrol Commissioner Walter Pudinski.

He said that "several factors indicate the accident decline could be silght or even non - existent — but the most damaging aspect may be that drivers hearing these optimistic statements will be lulled into a false sense of security."

Pudinski cited the following:

The vehicle mix is shifting.

The small - car population is increasing, the accidents involving small cars tend to be more severe.

The expected trend toward car pooling, putting more people in each vehicle, can result in more injuries when a car is involved in an accident.

Fatigue, a major cause of single vehicle crashes, will be increased on longer trips because the lowered maximum speed will extend travel times. And single vehicle accidents already represent nearly 40 percent of California's accident problem.

The new 55 mph limit will have "little impact on off-freeway traffic because most of that travel is at 55 mph or below right now. On freeways, the potential for more severe rear-end accidents may be increased. The speed differential between the wilful violator—the driver who operates far above the legal limit—and the 55 mph traffic flow will be that much greater, meaning rear-end and sideswipe accidents could be more serious."

The commissioner said his conclusions are based on "traffic volumes approximately equivalent to current flows. A volume drop of more than 15 percent would change the picture, since greatly decreased exposure might produce a numerical decline in accidents. However, experience also shows that as volume drops, accident severity increases, meaning that even though less accidents are occurring, they could more frequently result in serious injury or death."

He emphasized that the Highway Patrol is "not distributing gloom—simply realism.

'McKay' 14, Veteran Magician

At 14, the "Great McKay" is a veteran of his profession, which is magic.

Mark Stone, who lives at 1469 San Altos pl., Lemon Grove, has been doing tricks since he was six years old, and will perform for children Thursday, January 3, at 2 p.m. at the Lemon Grove Library, 7735 Pacific ave.

Up until a year and a half ago, he said, he only had a few tricks, but he found a magic shop in North Park and joined the San Diego Junior Magicians Club. Since then, he has expanded his act to include vanishing doves, flying carpets and zombie balls.

Last May 3, he placed third in a local contest in which 35 juniors participated. The junior club is advised by senior magicians in the area.

Mark entertains at hospitals, parties, recreation centers and libraries. His shows run from 20 minutes to one hour, and he is available for a basic fee of $7.50. The money earned is spent on adding to his collection of illusions. He plans to make magic a lifetime career in the San Diego area.

His biggest problem, he said, is keeping his props alive. On one occasion, the two goldfish he had left in the car were boiled to death by a blazing sun, and he was left without a finale to his act.
